Fort Wayne Sentinel.

SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1858.

We are very much crowded with advertisements this week; and in order to lay before our readers the interesting communication from Mr. Hamilton (which only came to hand yesterday), daylies are under the necessity of dispensing with long editorials this week.

The Arabia, arrived in New York from Liverpool on Thursday last. Among the passengers are ALICE HAMILTON, Esq. and family of this city, who we are pleased to learn return from their European tour in excellent health. They may be expected home in a few days.

Congress.—Leavenworth is still "dragging its slow length along," and every means seems adopted to delay a final vote upon it. We give a brief synopsis of the proceedings up to Thursday evening. Yesterday the debate was continued in both Houses, but without arriving at any result.

We still entertain a faint hope that Congress may eventually dispose of the matter, and be able to devote a little attention to some other minor and comparatively trifling affairs. After devoting four or five months to Kansas, the remainder of the Union ought certainly to be entitled to a few days of the valuable time of our law makers.

City Election.—The election for city officers takes place next Tuesday, and we hope every citizen will feel it a duty to attend the polls and vote. Besides the election of officers, a vote is to be taken for or against continuing the present arrangement for lighting a portion of our streets with gas and paying for the same out of the general funds of the city.

The democratic convention last Saturday was well attended and its action highly harmonious. A good ticket was nominated, and we hope it will receive the earnest support of every democrat in the city. The proceedings will be found in another column. We give the ticket as nominated.

For City Marshal—P. McGee.

Treasurer—W. H. Link.

Clerk—F. H. Walks.

Engineer—S. McElfatrick.

Street Commissioner—Charles Baker.

School Trustee—W. Rockhill, S. Edsall,

and T. Tigar.

Assessor—Piepenbrink was nominated but declines accepting.

Alderman—1st Ward—J. S. Irwin; 2d, J. M. Miller; 3d, J. Foellinger; 4th, O. D. Hurd; 5th, C. Baker.

By a vote of about fifty to one the people of Minnesota have determined to contract a debt of five million dollars to construct railroads in that State. This is about $22 to every man, woman, and child in the State. The conditions of the loan are, that the railroads shall pay it and release the State, if possible, but if not the State is pledged for it. Of course the railroads will never be able to pay. Are there no persons in Minnesota, who resided in Indiana from 1836 to 1843, and know the fatal consequences of involving a young and weak State in debt? The Minnesotans are saddling themselves and posterity with an immense debt, the interest on which will impose such a burthen of taxation as must inevitably drive emigration from her borders.

A Gleam of Light from Kansas.
The late bogus Leavenworth Convention, by seeking to admit negroes to an equality with white men, and in their pretended constitution providing for negro suffrage, has so clearly shown the crazy doings of the few abolitionists in Kansas, and their abettors, or rather directors in the eastern states, that the great mass of the settlers who have hitherto voted with the free voters, are now getting their eyes open, and refuse to be led further in the downward path of abolitionism. This is the sure instrument of producing a great deal of excitement in that territory. The people are opposed to being "educated up to the stand point" of negro equality. The Kansas Daily Ledger, of April 14th, gives the following account of public sentiment upon the question:

There was another great outpouring of the mechanics and laboring men of our city on Monday evening last, notwithstanding the great inclemency of the weather. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout, and a fixed and determined resolution was manifested in every community that the negro lovers, who are attempting to thrust the negro into our country, will find no favor with them. We glory in the spirit of the people, as is manifested by them on this occasion. We say go on with the great and glorious work, and trust not. The time of negro loving rule in Kansas is at an end. The career of the negro fanatical-fanatical-letter-signing negro-lovers, who are attempting to thrust the negro into our country, will find no favor with them. We glory in the spirit of the people, as is manifested by them on this occasion. We say go on with the great and glorious work, and trust not.

The Atlantic Magazine for May is received and for sale at Hill's Book Store. This Magazine is intensely New England in its tone and politics, and will probably be read with interest by the descendants of the Pilgrims, but we do not think it calculated to obtain much popularity, or make many converts to republicanism or abolitionism among Western men.

Content—American Antiquity; Roger Pierce the Man with Two Shadows; Amours de Voyage; Intellectual Character; Lou Lou; Charley's Death; the Catacombs of Rome; the Pure Pearl; Diver's Bay; Camille; the Hundred Days; Beethoven; Henry Ward Beecher; Autocrat of the Breakfast Table; Literary Notices, &c.

The New York Musical World, edited by Richard Storrs Willis, is one of the best musical periodicals of the age. By the prospectus in another column it will be seen that a new feature is to be introduced—the serial publication of Music for the entire Prayer Book of the Episcopal Church. Four pages of this music will appear fortnightly, alternating with music of other descriptions. This feature ought to secure a large subscription from the members of the Episcopal Church.

The Musical World is published weekly, each number containing four pages of choice music, at $2 per year; 5 copies for $5.00; 10 do $15.00.

Arrival of Judge Borden at San Francisco.
Our citizens will be rejoiced to learn that Judge J. W. Borden, U. S. Commissioner to the Sandwich Islands, has safely arrived at San Francisco, on his way to the scene of his labors.

The San Francisco Globe of April 31, announces the judge's arrival in the following complimentary terms:

The newly appointed U. S. Commissioner to the Sandwich Islands and the Hon. Justice W. Borden, of Indiana, arrived on the 28th instant, for the Sandwich Islands, on Monday next, with his family on the bark Yankee. He is now at the International Hotel. Judge Borden is a strong Democrat, and few men of his State have done better service in the great cause to which he has been so long attached. He is not only true to the party on the Kansas issue, but debates the question with a zeal and energy which give an additional interest to the very pleasant interview we had with him on yesterday.

We tested that our country's interests and the honor of our flag could not be confided to better hands. Mr. Gregg, of Illinois, the present Commissioner to the Sandwich Islands, has also arrived at the bark Yankee to meet him. We have known for many years, that he is a man of great energy, requiring considerable time for the Interpreter to wait him, much to the amusement of the bar and persons present. We were also pleased to see him friend through the Bank of England, the great money reservoir of Europe, and saw all its workings. Everything needed in the bank is manufactured within its walls, except the paper, which we were informed the Speaker—Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, assisted by Mr. Wolfe and Miss Pierson, have entertained our citizens with a series of theatrical performances this week. This company, though small, possesses more genuine talent than anywhere before here. Mrs. Kate Denin Ryan is a most charming and graceful actress, and has few superiors on the American stage. Her husband is inimitable in a love comedy, Irish characters especially, and keeps the audience in a roar of laughter. Miss Pierson is an accomplished vocalist, and her comic songs fairly "bring down the house." Mr. Wolfe is an able and versatile performer, equally at home in tragedy or comedy. Altogether the company is an excellent one, richly deserving patronage. The evening is positively their last appearance, and we hope for the benefit of Mrs. Ryan, we hope she will be greeted with a full house.

City Irises.—We understand that Messrs. Brandriff & Ayres have just completed laying off a large number of lots to the south of our flourishing city. This gives another favorable opportunity to the industrial portion of our community to secure lots to build on. The location is good, and will be, no very distant day, (if not already) the very centre of all our manufacturing operations. We understand the proprietors are disposed to sell lots reasonable to those who buy to improve. We may shortly have occasion to prove other evidences of the growth of our city in the direct.

Alen Circuit Court.—Our Circuit Court is now in session, Judge Dawson presiding. The time has been mostly occupied in criminal business, and the following have been convicted: Alvin Lehman, horse stealing—penitentiary 4 years; Wm Lewis, larceny, 2 years; Wolfgang Mark, larceny, 2 years; Theodore Foster and Fred Lebond, horse stealing, fined $40 each, and imprisoned one day in county jail.

Grand Circus Exhibition!—Messrs. Nixon & Kemp's grand consolidated circus, an union of two companies, one English and the other American, will be exhibited here on Tuesday, May 11th. The national rivalry of these performers induces all to do their utmost, and as each company contains many excellent performers, the exhibition will be, perhaps, the best ever seen here. The celebrated steam Calliope, a monstrous, mammoth steam organ, which can be heard several miles, and is said to make excellent music, accompanies this circus; also two splendid brass bands. We have no room to say more, but for further particulars refer the reader to the advertisements in another column

Swing Machines.—This great labor saving machine is one of the greatest boons to suffering, overtasked woman who was ever invented, and is now coming into general use. Of the many different patterns made, Nixon's appears to be the favorite. Several of them are in use in this city, and may be seen at Bostick & Bolman's, Thelme's, Vondermark's, Lint's, &c. By the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that R. B. Randal, of Reading, Pa. will supply this part of the state with these machines. Persons wishing to relieve the labor of the female portion of their household, and deserve their eternal gratitude, can do so by addressing their orders to him.

Our European Correspondence.—London, March 31, 1858.

Mr. Thos. Tigar:
Sir—I think I wrote you once since we came to this land where we understand what is said to us, and are understood in return, which is a great relief in our intercourse with those we meet. Accident brought me in contact with one, who spent in a distant eastern clime nearly as many years as we have in the land of the west; this was a pleasant incident, recounting scenes of childhood, and recurring to those departed ones to whom we were connected, then living in our beloved native land—a country for which Nature has done much and man so little; a land where I leave many kind friends for whose welfare I shall feel a deep interest. We are in the great business city of the world, the great moneyed artery, controlling, as it does, in some measure, the finances of the civilized world; we have not seen as much of the city as we wished, as we were unwell most of the time, and frequently confined to the house. Had it agreed with us we should have prolonged our stay until nearly the time of our departure from the shores of Albion; but the dampness prevailing here, and the intense smoke hovering over the city, of this season of the year, induce us to leave to-day, by the evening train, for a brief visit to Warwick, there to see the castle of the once famed Earl of that name, now the residence of a descendant of that remarkable Nobleman, renowned for his prowess, and sets of daring.

Mr. T. Tigar:
Sir—We are desired by Mr. Piepenbrink to give notice that he declines accepting the nomination for Assessor.

CONGRESSIONAL.—WASHINGTON, April 23.

SENATE.—Mr. Green asked leave to make a report to the Committee on Conference on the subject of Kansas.

Mr. Stuart raised objections, which provoked a long discussion on the point that parliamentary law gave to the House possession of the bill and the Senate not having the bill before them could not proceed to its consideration.

Mr. Stuart asserted his belief that the bill was in possession of the House, but Mr. Broderick informed the Senate that within a few minutes the bill had been laid in Mr. Broderick's hands after deliberation presented the names of Wm. Rockhill, Sam'l Edsall, and Thos. Tigar, who were unanimously nominated candidates for School Trustees.

On motion the proceedings of the Convention were ordered to be published in the Democratic papers of this city.

Whereupon the Convention adjourned.

An Indian Wedding.

The Nebraska City news of the 3d inst. contains a long account of the marriage of a native chief and a blood royal squaw of the Otoe tribe. The bridegroom was named Whitewater and the bride Wan-nuske-pe-shinga. We extract the following:

The chief's daughter was elegantly dressed in a red flannel shirt with a deep blue calico border, a sunburst killed a buffalo robe and a white felt hat. Her jews were magnificent. From either earlips depended bright ornaments of bones, tin, and copper.

We must not omit to mention that Miss Wah-mash-re-shinga, also wore a red petticoat, embroidered according to a design of her own, with porcupine quills, representing a desparate dog fight. Her entire wardrobe and jewelry could not have cost less than six thousand dollars in Fontenelle money. The bridegroom was attired in all the magnificence which his wealth demanded. He wore a standing shirt collar, a medal of President Pierce, a blue straight collared soldier coat with brass buttons, and an elegant pair of spanish spurs, while his stewartions were admirably clothed in an ancient coffee sack. Altogether the appearance of both the bride and the groom was appropriate to their high sphere in life.

The most sumptuous feast awaited the guests at the residence of the bride's father. It was spread in a camp kettle, and suspended over the fire, which burned in the center of the princely lodge. It consisted of a young deer, a very tender, clean old duck, beans, tails, and male steak, fresh fish and sugar, making altogether one of the most palatable and nourishing compound that ever graced a royal camp kettle. The horn-spoon of accidental luxury seldom conveys to the educated palate viands more tempting and delicious. As for drinks, whiskey made of red pepper, tobacco, plugs and rain water, together with molasses-sweetened coffee made up the list.

Among the distinguished persons present we did not fail to notice the six Messengers of Patience, the wives of that eminent 'jinjin' who is now at Washington, visiting James Buchanan on official business. Also Mr. Witlow of the Omaha principality. Mr. Big Soldier, Esquire Wild Cat, and the Honorable Short Tailed Elk.

A Steam Engine Experiment.—A scared Clergyman.—The first English model of a steam carriage was made in 1784, by Wm. Murdoch. The triad and assistant of Watt. It was on the high-pressure principle, and ran on three wheels. The boiler was heated by a spirit lamp; and the whole machine was of very minute dimensions, standing little more than a foot high. Yet, on one occasion, the little engine ran so fast that it outran the speed of its driver, Mr. Bullock, who, in his right judgment, returning from his duties in the mines at Redruth, in Cornwall, Murdoch determined to try the working of his model locomotive. For this purpose, he had recourse to the walk leading to the church, about a mile from town. The walk was rather narrow, and was bounded on either side by high hedges.

It was a dark night, and Murdoch set out alone to try his experiment. Having lit his lamp, the water shortly began to boil, and off started the engine, with the inventor after it. He soon heard distant sounds of despair. It was too dark to perceive objects; but he shortly found, on following up the machine, that the cries for assistance proceeded from the worthy pastor of the parish, who, going towards the town in business, was met on this lonely road by the hissing and fiery little monster, which he subsequently declared had taken to the evil one in propria persona. No further steps, however, were taken by Murdoch to embody his idea of a locomotive carriage in a more practical form.

Fancy a clergyman on a dark night in a deserted road, seventy yards of ag., meeting a little locomotive engine without a driver or attendant, whizzing directly at him! This was fifty years before George Stephenson, by combining the experience of the world with his own ideas, made a practical working machine of the locomotive.

The Millerites Moving.—The Newark N. J. Advertiser says some of the leading Second Adventists in that city have again set out for the destruction of the world—professing to have discovered the errors of their previous assertions, and to have finally determined the exact time. They regard the recent financial depression and the prevailing religious excitement as signs of the last days. By the next arrival from Europe they expect to hear of the destruction of the city of Rome, and this will pretend the confirmation of the world next summer.

A Revival Incident.—Last Saturday, at the meeting at Burton's theatre, Henry Ward Beecher made the surprising assertion that all present were sinners. "Not so," said a Methodist brother, who had been ejected from his church in a very striking manner. "Not so, for I have been justified." "Glory to God in the highest," shouted Beecher at the top of his voice. "You ought to have been in heaven long ago, you're not fit to live in this world." N. Y. Day Book.

So—For Mr. Whiting charged the society at Mr. Lamphere's installation, Exeter, N. H., to kind in their minister, and pay his salary punctually, and to remember that salary originally meant a roman soldier's stipend, a part of which was in salt. It should therefore be always enough to buy the minister his salt, which he thought, was something hardly the case.

Don't Take the papers.—In Cincinnati, a few days since, a man who resides within twelve miles of that city walked into the Citizens' Bank for the purpose of obtaining a sum of money which he had deposited there several years ago. Imagine his feelings on learning that the bank had failed six months ago! He had not even heard of the extraordinary financial panic which recently swept over the country with such a telling influence.

The Southern Era notices the marriage of Mr. John H. Strange to Miss Elizabeth A. Strange, all of Almadene county, Va. An exchange thinks that it's very strong, but says no doubt the next event will be a little stronger.

Children and fools are an old adage, always tell the truth. "Mother set me," said a little girl to a neighbor, "to come and ask you if what you said this evening is true." Did she say at what time, my dear? "No, ma'am, she only said we would ask you, and then the thing would be off her mind—that's all she said."

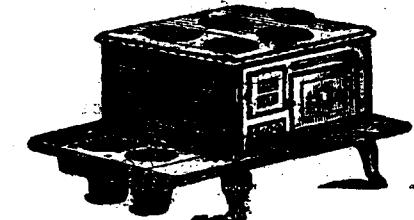

"Oh, pray let me have my way this time," said a young gentleman to his lady-lady. Well, Will, I suppose I must this once, but you know that after we are married, I shall always have a will of my own."

"A dandy is a thing that would be a good husband, if he could be had all he can."

But since he can't, he does all he can."

To let you know he's not a man."

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Secretary of State.

DANIEL MCCLURE, of Morgan.

Auditor of State,

JOHN W. DODD, of Grant.

Treasurer of State,

NATHANIEL P. CUNNINGHAM, of Vigo.

Superintendent of Public Instruction,

SAMUEL L. RUGG, of Allen.

Attorney General,

JOSEPH E. McDONALD, of Montgomery.

For Supreme Judges,

SAMUEL E. PERKINS, of Marion.

ANDREW DAVISON, of Decatur.

JAMES M. HANNA, of Vigo.

JAMES L. WORDEN, of Whitley.

We are very much crowded with advertisements this week; and in order to lay before our readers the interesting communication from Mr. Hamilton (which only came to hand yesterday) we are under the necessity of dispensing with any long editorials this week.

The Arabia, arrived in New York from Liverpool on Thursday last. Among the passengers are ALLEN HAMILTON, Esq., and family of this city, who we are pleased to learn return from their European tour in excellent health. They may be expected home in a few days.

Congress.—LeCompton is still "dragging its slow length along," and every means seem adopted to delay a final vote upon it. We give a brief synopsis of the proceedings up to Thursday evening. Yesterday the debate was continued in both Houses, but without arriving at any result.

We still entertain a faint hope that Congress may eventually dispose of the matter, and be able to devote a little attention to some other minor and comparatively trifling affairs. After devoting four or five months to Kansas, the remainder of the Union ought certainly to be entitled to a few days of the valuable time of our law makers.

City Election.—The election for city officers takes place next Tuesday, and we hope every citizen will feel it a duty to attend the polls and vote. Besides the election of officers, a vote is to be taken for or against continuing the present arrangement for lighting a portion of our streets with gas and paying for the same out of the general funds of the city.

The democratic convention last Saturday was well attended and its action highly harmonious.

A good ticket was nominated, and we hope it will receive the earnest support of every democrat in the city. The proceedings will be found in another column. We give the ticket as nominated.

For City Marshal.—P. McGee.

Treasurer.—W. H. Link.

Clark.—F. H. Wolke.

Engineer.—S. McElfrick.

Street Commissioner.—Charles Baker.

School Trustees.—W. Rockhill, S. Edsall,

and T. Tigar.

Assessor.—C. Piepenbrink was nominated

but declined accepting.

Aldermen.—1st Ward—J. S. Irwin; 2d, J. Miller; 3d, J. Foelinger; 4th, O. D. Hurd; 5th, C. Baker.

By a vote of about fifty to one, the people of Minnesota have determined to contract a debt of five million dollars to construct railroads in that State. This is about $22 to every man, woman, and child in the State. The conditions of the loan are, that the railroads shall pay it and release the State, if possible; but if not the State is pledged for it. Of course the railroads will never be able to pay. Are there no persons in Minnesota, who resided in Indiana from 1836 to 1843, and know the fatal consequences of it? living a young and weak State? The Minnesotans are saddling themselves and posterity with an immense debt, the interest on which will impose such a burthen of taxation as must inevitably drive emigration from their borders.

A Glimpse of Light from Kansas.

The late bogus Leavenworth Convention, seeking to admit negroes to an equality with white men, and in their pretended constitution, voting for negro suffrage, has so clearly shown the crazy designs of the few abolitionists in Kansas, and their abettors, or rather directors, in the eastern states, that the great mass of the settlers who have hitherto voted with the free states are now getting their eyes open, and refuse to be led further in the downward path of abolitionism. This feature of the instrument is producing a great deal of excitement in that territory. The people are opposed to being educated up to the stand point of negro equality. The Kansas Daily Ledger, of April 14th, gives the following account of public sentiment upon the question:

There was another great outpouring of the mechanics and laboring men of our city on Monday evening last, notwithstanding the great inclemency of the weather. The utmost hardness and grief feeling prevailed; throughout, and a fixed and determined resolution was manifested on every countenance that the negro should not be admitted, and that we will find no favor with them.

We glory in the spirit of the hard-fisted working men of our community, as manifested by them on this occasion. We say go on with the great and glorious work, and don't stop! The time of bigger, living rule in Kansas is at an end. The career of the dastardly, political, fanatical, to a close; in a few days they will be buried in political oblivion for ever. God bless the day!

The same paper of the 15th says further upon the same subject:

The nigger lovers throughout the Territory are getting scared by the people for their unpopularity in the constitutional convention. We are receiving letters from all parts of the Territory, from the most influential citizens, urging us in our course to put down the Leavenworth Constitution upon us, will find no favor with them.

The same paper of the 15th says further upon the same subject:

The nigger lovers throughout the Territory are getting scared by the people for their unpopularity in the constitutional convention. We are receiving letters from all parts of the Territory, from the most influential citizens, urging us in our course to put down the Leavenworth Constitution upon us, will find no favor with them.

We glory in the spirit of the hard-fisted working men of our community, as manifested by them on this occasion. We say go on with the great and glorious work, and don't stop! ### An Indian Wedding.

The Nebraska City news of the 3d inst. contains a long account of the marriage of a Pawnee chief and a blood royal squaw of the Otoe tribe. The bridegroom was named Whitewater and the bride, Was-mush-peehinga. We extract the following:

The cheif's daughter was elegantly dressed in a red flannel shirt with a deep blue calico border, a summer killed buffalo robe and a white felt hat. Her jewels were magnificent. From either auricular depended bright ornaments of brass, tin, and copper.

We must not omit to mention that Miss Wah-mush-peehinga also wore a red petticoat, embroidered according to a design of her own, with porcupine quills, representing a 'deeper dog fight.' Her entire wardrobe, and jewelry could not have cost less than six thousand dollars in Fontenelle money. The bridegroom was attired in all the magnificence which his wealth demanded. He wore a standing shirt collar, a medall of President Pierce, a blue straight-collared soldier coat with brass buttons and an elegant pair of spanish spurs, while his stalwartions were admirably clothed in an ancient coffee sack. Altogether the appearance of both the bride and the groom was appropriate to their high sphere in life.

The most sumptuous feast awaited the guests at the residence of the bride's father. It was spread in a camp kettle, and suspended over the fire which burned in the center of that princely lodge. It consisted of young dog meat, very tender, blue corn, old dog meat, beaver tails, and mule steak, fresh fish and sugar, making altogether one of the most palatable and nourishing compounds that ever graced a royal camp kettle. The horn-spoons of accidental luxury seldom convey to the educated palate viands more tempting and delicious. As for drinks, whisky made of red pepper, tobacco plug and rain water, together with mlassesweetened coffee made up the list.

Among the distinguished persons present we did not fail to notice the six Mesdames Patterson, the wives of that eminent 'Indian' who is now at Washington, visiting James Buchanan on official business. Also, Mr. Withrow of the Omaha principality. Mr. Big Soldier, Esquire Wild Cat, and the Honorable Short Tailed Elk.

A Steam Engine Experiment.—I Scared Clergyman.—The first English model of a steam carriage was made in 1784, by Wm. Murdoch, the friend and assistant of Watt. It was on the high-pressure principle, and ran on three wheels. The boiler was heated by a spirit lamp; and the whole machine was of very minute dimensions, standing little more than a foot high. Yet, on one occasion, the little engine went so fast that it outran the speed of its inventor. Mr. Buckle says, that one night, after running from his duties in the mine at Redruth, in Cornwall, Murdoch determined to try the working of his model locomotive. For this purpose, he had recourse to the walk leading to the church, about a mile from town. The walk was rather narrow, and was bounded on either side by high hedges. It was a dark night, and Murdoch set out alone to try his experiment. Having lit his lamp, the water shortly began to boil, and off started the engine, with the inventor after it. He soon heard distant shouts of despair. It was now dark to perceive objects; but he shortly found, on following up the machine, that the cries for assistance proceeded from the worthy pastor of the parish, who, going towards the town in business, was met on this lonely road by the hissing and fiery little monster, which he subsequently declared he had taken to the evil unum propria persona. No further steps however were taken by Murdoch to embody his idea of a locomotive carriage in a more practical form.

Fancy a clergyman on a dark night in a deserted road, seven years of age, meeting a little locomotive engine without a driver or attendant, whizzing directly at him! This was fifty years before George Stephenson, by combining the experience of the world with his own ideas, made a practical working machine of the locomotive.

The Millerites Moving.—The Newark N. J. Advertiser says some of the leading Second Adventists in that city have again set a period for the destruction of the world—professing to have discovered the errors of their previous calculations, and to have finally ascertained the exact truth. They regard the recent financial depression and the prevailing religious excitement as signs of the last days. By the next arrival from Europe they expect to hear of the destruction of the city of Rome, and this will pretend the configuration of the world next summer.

A Revival Incident.—Last Saturday, at the meeting at Burton's theatre, Henry Ward Beecher made the sweeping assertion that all present were sinners! "Not so," said a Methodist brother who suddenly jumped from his seat in a very exciting manner, "Not so for I have been sanctified!" Glory to God in the highest," shouted Beecher at the top of his voice. "You ought to have been in heaven long ago, you're not fit to live in this world."—N. Y. Day Book.

Solty.—Rev. Mr. Whiting charged the society at Mr. Lapham's installation Ester, N. H. to be kind to their minister, and pay his salary punctually, and to remember that entry originally meant a roman soldier's shield, a part of which was in tail. It should therefore be all ways enough to buy the minister his salt; which was thought, was something hardly the case.

Didn't Take the papers.—In Cincinnati, a few days since, a man who resides within twelve miles of that city walked into the Citizens' Bank for the purpose of obtaining a sum of money which he had deposited there several years ago. Imagine his feelings on learning that the bank had failed six months ago! He had not even heard of the extraordinary financial panic which recently swept over the country, with such a compelling influence.

The Southern Era notices the marriage of Mr. John H. Strange to Miss Elizabeth A. Strange, all of Albemarle county, Va. An exchange thinks that it's very Strange, but says no doubt the next event will be a little stronger.

A young man who was recently taken a wife, says he did not find it half so hard to get married than as he did to get the furniture.

When one loves the twilights better than the moon, it is evidence that he is near one of his two childhoods—either the first or the second.

A very little boy, who at night had been repeating the Lord's Prayer, was observed to be in very deep thought. After meditating a long time, he asked: "Mamma, is the daily bread outered?"

Sir C. Napier said, "I asked a dirty fellow, black as a sweep, if a coal pit could be descended without spoiling my clothes—'for bless you, I don't care if I get my clothes dirty,' said he.

Children and fools, says an old adage, always tell the truth. "Mother sent me," said a little girl to a neighbor, "to come and ask you to take tea with her this evening?" Did she say at what time, my dear?" "No, mam," she only said you would ask soon, and then the thing would be off her mind—that's all she said!"

"Oh, pray let me have my way this time," said a young gentleman to his lady-love. "Well, Willie, I suppose I must this once; but you know that after we are married, I shall always have a 'will of my own.'"

"A dandy is a thing that would be a young lady if he could."

But since he can't, does all he can; To let you know he's not a man."
